Britain's Future
Queen Likes Music

She Wants It Sweet, Hot: Is Fond of Dancing.

LONDON — Britain's 19-year-old Princess Elizabeth is a King Country girl and has collected scores of recordings by the American crooner which she plays on her phonograph — just like millions of other teen-age girls in her country and the United States.

The blue-eyed princess used to regard Clark Gable and Errol Flynn as her favorite actors. She was dis-closed, but now she has decided that England's Laurence Olivier is "Hops" among the screen players. "Britain's future queen" loves to dance. She has been known to lead a conga line out of the ball room and through the corridors of Buckingham palace or Windsor castle at private parties which have lasted into five a.m.

She likes light music — both sweet and hot. Her album favors it, time, which she requests at public and private dances, is Cole Porter's "Night and Day." Her set and choice is Jerome Kern's "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes."

But she is an accomplished serious pianist and her repertoire includes Bach, Brahms and Beethoven.

Like her mother, Elizabeth is tall — 5 feet, 7 inches — dignified and strong. Her eyes are very blue and her brown hair is worn simply, with a right hand part falling soft waves to curls at the ends. She uses little makeup and no nail polish and she likes to wear "junky" jewelry.

Courty hairdresses are reserved for state occasions and the only genuine jewelry she wears day by day is the double strand of pearls to which her father adds each birthday.

Her daytime hours are filled with public engagements and study, but whenever she can the Princess likes to ride, dance and art. She fell in love with her, first small pony and her biggest ambition is to own a racing stable.

Intense interest centers on her future choice of a husband but she seldom talks of marriage. She assumes that one day she will have a husband just like anyone else.

Amount of Cash Spent
On Beer Amazes Town

GREAT WYRLY, STAFFORDSHIRE, ENG. — Staggered by statistics and not by their drinking, the residents of this village have learned that they spend approximately 23,000 pounds annually on beer.

The men blame it on the women, saying the women are the heavy drinkers and that actually the village as a whole is abstemious. But the women say the men prove 23,000 pounds expenditure.

Indian Cobras
Although Indian cobras kill several thousand people a year, the natives of India often regard cobras with so much superstitious reverence that no attempt is made to destroy the snakes.

We repeat that all this has a strange sound to modern ears, so accustomed to the worldly philosophy of trust in things and in dollars. We need to warn our young men and women about the subtle danger of loving money.

There is something infinitely better than riches, and that is what we find in our next point.

III. Seek True Riches in Christ (18: 23-30)

Peter and the other disciples had forsaken all the things of the world to follow Christ, and now as he reminds the Lord of that fact, he receives the assurance that there is higher level of riches and reward for the loyal disciple.

God will never be in debt to anyone. There is no sacrifice made for his glory which does not find its glorious recompense, and no burden borne for his sake which does not bring its rich reward.

All this is not the result of some kind of a "deal" with God. We do not serve him because we expect a reward, but the assurance of the reward is there to encourage and spur us on in life and service for him.

The fact is, spiritual currency has far higher value than gold and silver of this world.

IV. Ask Christ to Deliver You From Riches (19:1-10)

Zacchaeus was a man well versed in the devious ways of the extortioner. He knew money, and how to make it. But he was not satisfied. He knew there was something more worth while than riches. His life was empty.

He sought Jesus. One look from the Master and he knew that he must lay his sinful heart open before him in confession. Salvation came to Zacchaeus that day.

Here, then, is the way to be delivered from the snare of riches—take Jesus Christ as your Savior and Lord. He may then entrust riches to your care to use for him, but he will deliver you from a love for gold and from the folly of putting your trust in it.

The person who lives for riches is lost (v. 10), caught in a snare (I Tim. 6: 9, 10), trusting in something that will fail him when most needed (Luke 12: 19, 20), and trusting something which will keep him from God (Luke 18: 24-27), unless there is grace to free him from it and turn to God.

FINDING A NEW SENSE OF VALUES

LESSON TEXT—Luke 12: 19, 20, 21: 23-30; 1 Th. 5: 1-6

MEMORY SELECTION — The kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost—Romans 14:17.

Money, riches, possessions—that's what men are living and striving for in our day. It is going to seem a bit strange, but it will be very salutary to stress once again the eternal truth, best summarized by our Lord Jesus when he said, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth" (Luke 12:15).

I. Don't Depend on Riches (12:19, 20).

The rich man increased in selfishness as he increased in wealth. He began to feel secure because he had laid up much goods. Now he became proud and boastful. He thought he saw years of comfort and ease ahead. Evidently he had not read, or did not believe, the words of Scripture, "Boast not thyself of tomorrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth" (Prov. 27:1; see also James 4:13-17).

Well, can a man depend on riches? The answer is no. They are here today and gone tomorrow. Man himself is here today and gone tomorrow. When he goes, he leaves all that he has unless he has invested it for God.

Money is like a broken reed. The man who leans on it will not only fall, but will pierce himself through with many sorrows (I Tim. 6: 9, 10). Don't depend on riches—they will miserably fail you in your hour of need.

II. Beware of the Snare of Riches (18:24-27).

The rich ruler had come running to Jesus to seek eternal life. But he had turned away sorrowful when he found that a man cannot love money and love God at the same time.

Jesus improved the opportunity to point out that it is impossible for a rich man to be saved, except as the grace of God holds him and sets him free from dependence on his wealth.

Apart from the grace of God, it is so easy for a rich man or woman to trust in riches, and to feel no need of God.

Look again at I Timothy 6: 9, 10 and you will see that even the desire to be rich leads a man into a temptation and a snare. The man of God is warned to "flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness," and thus to be able to fight the good fight of faith" (I Tim. 6: 11, 12).

There is something infinitely better than riches, and that is what we find in our next point.

III. Seek True Riches in Christ (18: 23-30)

Peter and the other disciples had forsaken all the things of the world to follow Christ, and now as he reminds the Lord of that fact, he receives the assurance that there is higher level of riches and reward for the loyal disciple.

LET'S KNOW OUR PINES

A. H. Antonio, Project Forester, Alabama Division of Forestry, Ozark, Alabama

Most people already know the Longleaf Pine I described last week. The pine I will now describe is also of the most important in the South. Many people have difficulty in distinguishing this one from Loblolly or Pond Pine.

The Slash Pine

This also becomes a large evergreen tree, sometimes over 100 feet tall and three feet in diameter. This tree prefers a moist, sandy soil and is found naturally in Alabama only in the Southern counties, mainly from Houston to Mobile Counties.

The branches are often orange-colored but gradually becoming darker. The needles come two or three to a bundle and they are eight to twelve inches long. The straw is very straight as though freshly combed. (Loblolly and Pond Pine straw is somewhat tangled or twisted, kind of like your hair when you first get up in the morning.) The straw is generally of a dark rich green.

The bark is a dark orange-brown, separating on the surface into large scales. The inner bark is usually orange-colored. The cones are usually three to five inches long. They are not nearly as large as Longleaf cones, but are somewhat larger than Loblolly and Pond Pine cones. Shortleaf and Spruce Pines have very small cones.

The wood is much the same as Longleaf wood with resinous, dark orange-colored heartwood with almost white sapwood. It is used for construction, flooring, shipbuilding, railroad ties, boxes, poles, piling, pulp, ties, etc. Slash and Longleaf Pines are both rated as "dual-purpose" pines due to the fact that they produce turpentine and resin. After the turpentine is removed, the wood is good for lumber or other wood products.

Next Week: The Loblolly Pine.

Vote "NO" to CIO Rule in Alabama

CIO—the labor union that has so long fought all legislation for the benefit of farmers of America—has officially endorsed Jim Folsom for Governor of Alabama.

Sidney Hillman, Chairman of the CIO-PAC

Announced from N. Y., Monday, May 13th:

"We Will Elect Folsom Governor"

CIO Sample Ballot Endorses FOLSOM for Governor

To the Members of the CIO and Friends: Officially endorsed and recommended by the CIO-PAC, we urge our members that they vote for FOLSOM for Governor on June 4th.

Reproduced from May 2, 1946 issue of Alabama News, District 1, CIO weekly newspaper.

Stop and think what outside domination by the CIO would mean to Alabama and to you.

CIO is the labor union that is now seeking to revive the F.E.P.C.—the agency that has stirred up so much racial discord in the South.

CIO is the union that has openly declared its purpose to purge all Southern Senators and Congressmen opposed to its aims.

CIO is the union that made farmers pay to bring their perishable produce into New York in their own farm trucks.

CIO is the union that wants the color line abolished in our ballot boxes.

CIO is the union that is fighting all other unions for complete control of Alabama's industries and businesses and Alabama's government.

Painting Surfaces

No matter how good a paint or other protective coating may be, it cannot generally be expected to adhere here and there long on dirty, greasy, corroded or damp surfaces. All surfaces which are to be painted or decorated, whether wood, metal or other material should be thoroughly cleaned and made free of dirt, grease, corrosion or moisture before the coating is applied.

Durable Utensils

Thin, lightweight sheet aluminum in pans is less expensive, lighter to handle but also less durable than the heavy cast metal. Thin ware is more easily dented, bent and scorched than heavy ware. Buy heavy pans for such heavy use as everyday cooking, for a job like mashing potatoes, and for the heavy-handed or absent-minded cook.

Fleet's Action In Battle Tried

Tests Made in Water Basin To Show How Warship Would Act in Fight.

PHILADELPHIA.—When a mammoth battleship or carrier in the Pacific was a target for Japanese bombs or wallowed in hurricane seas, the captain and his crew would know exactly how the ship would perform because of a relatively tiny 8-foot model that sailed months before in an indoor basin of water. Similarly, the first LCI and LSTs were sent on vital, but hazardous assignments halfway across the world because the designers of the new type craft, previously untested in warfare, were certain of their stability and operation.

Model ship building used to be little more than an intriguing hobby, but the technique has been greatly extended in recent years, according to Henry E. Bossel, president of the Cramp Shipbuilding Corp., which it reached a new high during the war.

LANE-WARD CEREMONY HELD THURSDAY NIGHT AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Thursday evening, May 16, at eight o'clock, in the First Baptist Church of Thomsaville, Ga., Miss Ina Lane became the bride of Dr. W. R. Ward, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. T. F. Callaway in the presence of the immediate families. Following immediately after a delightful wedding reception was given in the Sunset Home of the John D. Archbold Memorial Hospital with many friends of the bride present.

The main room of the home was decorated with oleanders, hydrangeas and magnolia most attractively. The table was centered with a wedding cake and artistically arranged with candelabra and lovely white flowers.

Refreshments consisted of small individual cakes and punch. Throughout the affair, the lovely blending of the green and white decorative effects was effectively carried out.

Mrs. Ward is a former resident of Elba, Ala., and is the daughter of Mrs. J. F. Lane, of Cairo, Ga., and the late Mr. Lane, of Cairo, Ga., who was a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and for the past sixteen years has been in the Research Department of Eli Lilly Company of Indianapolis, Ind.

Dr. Ward, a native of Indianapolis, Ind., is a graduate of the University of Indiana School of Medicine. He also attended the University of Illinois and later took post graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania.

He has been connected with the operation of the hospital for the past eight years. She has many friends here who were most interested in her marriage.

VOTERS WILL RECEIVE

SHORT BALLOT AT POLLS
NEXT TUESDAY, JUNE 4

Coffee County voters who go to the polls on next Tuesday will receive a much smaller ballot than they did in the May primary. There are only six names on the ballot in this run-off primary, and as there are no local or county races to be settled, some observers are predicting a very light vote.

However, others are predicting that Coffee citizens will give a big turnout on account of the candidacy of Big Jim Folsom, former Coffee resident, boosting his popular vote for Governor.

Here's how your ballot will look next Tuesday:

For Governor
() Handy Ellis
() J. E. (Big Jim) Folsom

For Lieutenant Governor
() Reuben L. Newton
() J. C. Inzer

For Associate Member Public Service Commission
() C. C. (Jack) Owen
() W. Clint Harrison

If you want the paper to keep coming to you, come in this week and pay up. We cannot send it unless you do renew.

ELBA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1946

NUMBER 51

Peasants
Coffee County has many more peanuts planted this year than were planted in 1945. As a whole, the status are good, considering the amount of rain and variation of temperature we have had this spring.

Mr. Peanut yields in Coffee County are around 800 pounds per acre. This low yield is caused by digging peanuts from the same land year after year, low applications of fertilizer, and leaf spot.

By correcting these three causes the yield can be increased.

Leaf spot can be controlled by applying sulphur or copper sulphur dust to the peanut vines.

Fifteen pounds per acre should be used and the crop should be dug three times at 15 days or two weeks intervals. In some cases four applications may be needed.

Mr. Frank Clapp, County Agent of Barbour County, reports that the use of sulphur in that county in 1945 increased the yield of peanuts 447 pounds per acre and the use of 1600 gave an increase of 612 pounds per acre.

Farmers who are interested in dusting for leaf spot should contact the County Agent.

The boll weevil is the most destructive insect that attacks cotton. However, another weevil similar to the boll weevil, the cowpea curculio, has been attacking the young cotton plants this spring.

Mr. T. B. Byrd, of May Enterprise, reported damage caused by the cowpea curculio on the
